短文聽讀

Dean introduces his student Doug to Cooper. Dean teaches Doug through the Internet (網際網路；網路). Doug really admires (欽佩) Dean because he thinks Dean is smart and knows everything. It is Doug's first time to visit Taipei, and he has brought a souvenir (紀念品), a little hand-carved and hand-painted stone, for Dean. As Cooper listens to Doug talking about the things that Dean is currently involved in, Cooper is impressed and offers a handshake. Dean, however, deflects credit (謙虛的說) and thanks his students for making his life more exciting (反倒是學生讓的他生活更多采多姿).
